Turning to the export trade, we find that last year 2,137,472 piculs of Tea were sent to: foreign countries as compared with 2,097.118 picule in the preceding year. The increase, however, consisted of Green, Dust, and Brick Tea, the actual export of Black being smaller than that of 1880 by some 25,000 piculs. The value of the export was at the same time considerably in excess of that of 1880, and must therefore have been satisfactory to the dealers.
